

The very idea that it would be ok for Sinclair Broadcasting to air what amounts to a feature length political advertisement for Bush is absurd.

The American public deserve better. Sinclair uses public airwaves. These are not cable stations. These stations have an obligation to be non-partisan.

I'm horrified that such a situation could even come up. Isn't there something the FCC can do to stop this blatant abuse of the system?

Thank you for your help,
Hannah Harris